

Things To Do

Subscribe ▶
Submit News ▶
Subscribe to Newsletter ▶

- NEWS
- CRIME
- SPORTS
- THINGS TO DO
- OBITUARIES
- LIFESTYLES
- DIRECTORY
- CALENDAR

- LINCO
- NEWS
- BUSINES
- GOVERN
- SCHOOL
- CRIME
- SPORT
- HIGH SC
- HIGH SC
- ENCOM
- THING
- ARTS & E
- CALEND
- GOOD TO
- WEEKEN
- OBITU
- LIFEST
- OPINION
- GUEST E
- WEDDIN
- OBITUA
- DIREC
- CALEN

THINGS TO DO

Share:

Library, Turning Point present real recovery stories

Mike Isaacs

misaacs@pioneerlocal.com |
@SKReview_Mike
April 8 1:51 p.m.

SKOKIE — He tells the painful story of when he was little and was awakened because his dad wanted money to gamble. His mom said no and he got angry.

“They got into it, or rather my dad got into it with my mom,” he recalls. “I woke up to her screaming, and my dad had backed her up — backing her into a closet door and into a corner.”

It’s an ugly, awful story difficult to erase from the mind. It is a real story even though an actor convincingly delivers it — making the memory of it come to life, the very real terror of it palpable by just looking at his eyes.

“He’s hitting her in the face again and again and again,” he says. “And he has a gun in his hand and hits her in the face with it. And then he decides to play Russian roulette with it. So he spins the barrel and he pulls the trigger. And he spins the barrel and he pulls the trigger again. And again.”

Turning Point Behavioral Health Care Center and the Skokie Public Library April 22 will present “Stories of Recovery & Resilience” where professional actors use real words written by people struggling with a variety of mental health issues.

RECENT ARTICLES

Movies: ‘Gone Girl’ reviewed, along with new, recent films >

Oct. 3 1:03 p.m.

Quigley, 13 other U.S. lawmakers form caucus to fight O’Hare noise >

Oct. 3 12:53 p.m.

Blaser: Concession stand offers food for

Eventbrite
Set Up.
Sell Out.
Rock Out
The ticketing choice for
60,000 concerts
& festivals in 2013
Get Started →

thought on teen eating

Oct. 3 11:25 a.m.

The stories will be performed by Erasing the Distance, a Chicago theater company that uses the power of performance to disarm stigma, spark dialogue, educate and promote healing surrounding issues of mental illness.

The presentation comes right before Mental Health Awareness Month in May.

Gandhi's birthday celebration brings reminders of peace, helping others

Oct. 3 11:10 a.m.

Erasing the Distance was founded in 2005

"We collect true stories from people whose lives have been impacted by mental health issues, and we sculpt their actual words into monologues and scenes," Erasing the Distance creators say. "Our ensemble of professional actors then brings these stories to life on stage in a theatrical performance before a live audience."

Love Essentially: The impact of cancer on commitment, romance, sex and true love

Oct. 3 11 a.m.

Every performance is followed by a moderated, interactive discussion with the audience exploring the stories that unfolded. When appropriate, the discussion also leads to identifying mental illness signs, symptoms, recovery options and community resources.

Letter: Blaser comment on Polish people was insensitive

Oct. 3 4:38 a.m.

Erasing the Distance even holds "story sharing days" to collect stories from people who want to share their experiences with mental health issues. "We audio record the collections and then, with the storyteller's permission, transcribe and sculpt the stories into monologues, scenes and full productions, always using and honoring the real words of the tellers," creators say.

"Stories of Recovery and Resilience" is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Petty Auditorium of the Skokie Public Library, 5215 Oakton St.

Topics to be explored during this session include surviving violence, experiencing depression, the emotional impact of being an immigrant or refugee, and more.

Following the performance will be a question and answer session with the company.

To register, call the library reference desk at (847) 673-7774.

 Like Sign Up to see what your friends like.

0 Comments

Name

Email

0 Comments

Lincolnwood
Review

About

Subscribe

Reader Services

Licensing

Reprints

AFFILIATES

Chicago Sun-
Times

Pioneer Local

High School Cube

News

High School

Sports Broadcast

WeekAway

Rankommend

Bouquet Catcher

Chicago

ViewsMix

Geneva Reporter

St. Charles

Reporter

Batavia Reporter

Tri-Cities

Reporter

COMPANY

Terms of Use

Privacy Policy

Send Feedback

Contact Us

About Us

ADVERTISING

About Our Ads

Advertise with Us

Submission

Guidelines

Connect with us:

© Copyright 2014 Sun-Times Media, LLC